Invites all Auckland Dentists & Technicians to the
AUCKLAND STUDY GROUP MEETING

Tuesday 25th June 2024 at 7.00pm

PRESENTER:

DR AJ SALMAN

TOPIC:

Digital Dentistry in Action: A Chairside Approach

Synopsis:

Chairside Dentistry has appealed to dental clinicians for decades. Over the last few years, the revolution of accurate and user-friendly digital scanners, milling units, 3D printers and automation of design has made chairside dentistry more predictable than ever before. We will cover some of the key treatment modalities that have been central to my practice of dentistry and how they may be helpful for you.

Learning Outcomes:

1. Understand recent advancements in digital chairside dentistry.
2. Evaluate their impact on predictability and efficiency.
3. Identify key treatment modalities and benefits.
4. Discuss practical integration strategies.
5. Analyse case studies for deeper understanding.
6. Cost/benefit analysis formula

I earned my Bachelor of Dental Surgery at the University of Otago in 2012. At Otago, I was elected the President of the NZ Dental Students Association. I was honoured by the NZ Institute of Minimal Intervention Dentistry for my piece, "The Role of Dentists in Society." I received the Pierre Fauchard Academy award for excellence in clinical dentistry and leadership. I have also been granted a fellowship to the ICCDE (International College of Continuing Dental Education). In 2022, I completed my diploma in primary care dentistry from the Royal College of Dental Surgeons of Ireland. Over the past 12 years of being a dentist, I feel that I have experienced the most rapid ascent of technological advancements in the history of dentistry. I went from developing X-ray films in a dark room to check my amalgam restoration, to completing 10 porcelain veneers in a single day. I have made it my mission to seek out the latest technological advancements that can help patients achieve better outcomes. I hope that I can help others see the benefits of technology so we can all elevate the dental profession higher than ever before.

All attendees must rsvp (for catering purposes) by Tuesday 18th June 2024 to admin@nzacd.co.nz. No refund will be made for cancellations received less than 7 working days or "no-shows".
