Invites all Whakatane and Eastern Bay of Plenty Dentists to the WHAKATANE DIGITAL STUDY GROUP MEETING

Thursday 18th July 2019 at 6.30pm

Digital Presenter: Dr Buddy Mopper

Topic: Class IV and Direct Resin Bonding Concept

Synopsis:

The use of composite resins for Class IV restorations is a procedure that demands the clinician to commit, from planning to execution, to using a combination of art and science within a minimally invasive approach. This will allow more tissue preservation with an optimal aesthetic and functional outcome.

The polychromatic complexity and colour selection of the restoration is one of the most challenging stages, the optical features of the dentin, enamel and their simultaneous coexistence are the features that determine the final colour of the tooth.

Stratification techniques have as an objective to project the colour from the inside to the outside through the combination of dentin and enamel composites, chromatic and achromatic effects, and by using small increments in each layer of the restoration. By incorporating proven techniques by some of the world's best Cosmetic Dentists it is possible to hone our own skills in this challenging area.

Learning Objectives:

The main goal for performing direct restorations with composite resins is to create an easy workflow that allows the clinician to have a predictable, natural, functional and long-lasting result. Composite resin is a tooth-friendly material, and it can allow minimal tooth reduction in many instances.

Please join Dalila and Richard in their practice for an informal study-group style meeting and watch a video presentation by world renowned dental leader Dr Buddy Mopper.
